What do you value most in our natural world?

For more than 20 years the Woodbury County Conservation Foundation (WCCF) has strived to educate others about our natural resources and to provide avenues for people to conserve and protect our local natural treasures.

The Woodbury County Conservation Foundation believes that outdoor experiences are essential for developing a love and respect for the natural world.

You can help the Woodbury County Conservation Foundation protect our natural areas for future generations and teach others about their significance.

Here's what your gifts allow us to do:

 Enhance the Discovery Forest Nature Playscape at the Dorothy Pecaut Nature Center which provides numerous ways for children & families to reconnect with nature through outdoor play. In 2016 a series of three slides were added.*

 Provide support for a Raptor House at the Dorothy Pecaut Nature Center to house educational birds of prey—a Barred Owl, a Red-tailed Hawk & an American Kestrel. More than 3,000 people received direct programming with our birds of prey.*

 Restore several acres of Loess Hills prairie through efforts of a Summer Intern and Iowa Conservation Corps crew.*

 Co-sponsor Summer Day Camps that reach 300 youth, including camp scholarships.*

 Sustain an Endowment Fund within the Siouxland*

Community Foundation that allows for tax free gifts to WCCF and provides Iowa Tax Credits for donors.

Please help us make a positive impact with your tax-deductible gift to the Woodbury County Conservation Foundation.

Your generous gift of $50, $100, $200, $500 or more will help us provide these important services. During this holiday season, as you take stock of what matters most, please consider a different kind of gift for your family.

Please send this form—and your membership contribution—today. With your gift we can connect children to nature and protect wild areas for future generations.

With Sincere Thanks,

Dr. Brian T. Hazlett,
President
